ACM-W

Officer Recruitment

What is ACM-W?
ACM-W is a committee of ACM dedicated to supporting women in computing.

We provide various opportunities for women to:
- Obtain leadership training
- Obtain scholarships from ACM
- Join peer consulting and get study tips from your seniors
- Attend conferences where most industry holds career fairs
- Participate in women’s social activities and make your life rich and colorful

We are looking for people who have a passion to help:
- Increase the visibility of young women in computer science
- Challenge the traditional stereotypes of what/who computer scientists are

Any student, from freshman to graduate level, who is female or who supports women in computer science, is welcome to lead S&T’s ACM-W student chapter.

Don’t be hesitate to email us if you ever want to be a leader and help women!
Charissa Mathis (President of S&T’s ACM-W)
camq7c@mst.edu