The story of Guy Fawkes has morphed into a powerful myth in the 21st Century. This talk will trace the development of this myth and its influence on contemporary events.

Bio: Dr. George Markowsky is currently the Chair of the Computer Science Department at the Missouri University of Science and Technology. He holds a Ph. D in Mathematics from Harvard University, and a B. A. in Mathematics from Columbia University. He was Chair and Professor at the University of Maine, a Visiting Scholar at the Rochester Institute of Technology, a Visiting Professor at the Lally School of Management and Technology at RPI, and Manager of Special Projects in the Computer Science Department at the IBM Watson Research Center in NY.