Ethics and Professionalism

Dr. Jeff Cawlfied
Missouri University of Science and Technology

ABSTRACT:
This talk will review the reasons why academic integrity and professional ethics are important, how they are defined here at Missouri S&T, the procedures involved in reporting and investigating a breach of academic integrity, and overview of the types of cases we see at Missouri S&T.

BIOGRAPHY:
As Vice Provost of Academic Support, Cawlfied leads campus-wide efforts to help all undergraduates succeed. The Office of Academic Support oversees the Student Design Center, the S&T Library, New Student Programs, the Student Success Center, the Student Veteran Center, the Writing Center, the Speech Communication Center, L.E.A.D. peer-guided mentoring/tutoring, Academic Advising Resources, Undergraduate Research Programs, and other student success services for undergraduate students. Cawlfied is responsible for undergraduate academic integrity awareness and enforcement for the campus.

Cawlfied holds a Ph.D. and a M.S. degree in civil engineering from the University of California, Berkeley, and a B.S. degree in civil engineering from Washington State University. He joined Missouri S&T as an associate professor of geological engineering in 1987, was named associate professor in 1993 and became a full professor in 1999.

Prior to being named Vice Provost, Cawlfied served his department, college and university in various capacities as Program Head, Associate Dean, Department Chair, and Director of the Freshman Engineering Program.